Our philosophy / Four essentials / Your ritual

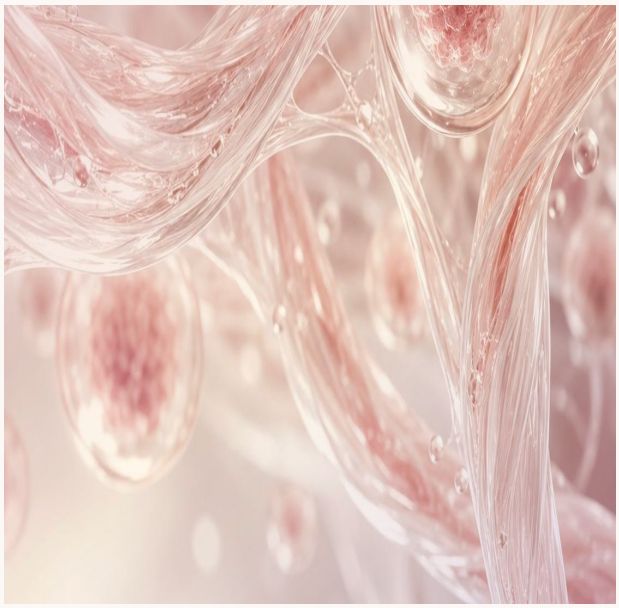
01 PHILOSOPHY

02 INGREDIENTS

03 YOUR RITUAL

The structure of skin.
The source of our inspiration.

Dermellow began with the needs of Korean clinical practice and skin research. We bring medical expertise and wound-care technology into product research to develop thoughtful skin care.



Conceptual illustration of skin structure

ECM / EXTRACELLULAR MATRIX

The extracellular matrix (ECM) is a natural network surrounding cells that forms the structural environment of tissue. It inspires Dermellow's approach to skin-care research.

01 Research rooted in clinical practice

Expertise from clinical practice and regenerative-medicine research informs product development.

02 Dermatologist guidance

Dermatologists' clinical experience informs product planning and development.

03 Joint research with T&L

We draw on the expertise of T&L, a specialist in wound care and medical devices, in our product research.

Four essentials.
One ampoule.

Four ingredient groups inspired by skin structure. Focused care for hydration and a smooth, radiant look.

5 mL / SINGLE USE

COLLAGEN

89% Collagen

A key ingredient in our skin-structure-inspired formula, at the heart of care for supple, smooth-feeling skin.

ELASTIN

3% Elastin

Elastin is a structural protein associated with elasticity. Together with collagen, it supports care for supple, smooth-feeling skin.

ECM COMPONENTS

7.6% ECM components

Hydrolyzed collagen, fibronectin, soluble elastin and multiple peptides: ingredients inspired by the skin's structural environment.

GAG / HYALURONIC

0.4% GAG · Hyaluronic acid

A moisturizing system with hydrolyzed glycosaminoglycans and multiple forms of hyaluronic acid delivers a hydrated feel to the skin.

Ingredient-group composition · as stated in the Korean brochure

Descriptions refer to the properties of the ingredients.

HYDRATE

Moisture care for dry, tight-feeling skin

ELASTICITY

A supple, smooth skin texture

GLOW

Radiance for rough, dull-looking skin

REFRESH

Moisturizing and soothing care with centella and panthenol
